National Electrostatics Corp (NEC) is seeking a full-time CNC Mill Operator to join our team. As the world leader in the manufacturing of electrostatic ion beam accelerator systems, NEC is looking for the best quality candidates to join our team. We are an employee-owned company that has been in business for over 50 years. Benefits include paid holidays, vacation, and sick leave, disability and life insurance, dental and group health insurance, and 401(k) matching, employee assistance program, tuition reimbursement, and referral program. This position will be responsible for operating computerized equipment to form precision tools and parts. The hours are from 6:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday-Thursday.

Duties/Responsibilities:

- Reads and interprets blueprints, diagrams, and other project specifications, then identifies and inputs the commands and data needed for computer-controlled machinery to manufacture the tools, parts, or products required.
- Recognizes when automatic programming is faulty, or when the machine is malfunctioning or in need of maintenance, and modifies feed, speed, cutting tools, or controls of the machine to correct the issue.
- Monitors control panel displays and machine operation and detects malfunctions and errors by comparing readings to actual specifications.
- Calculates the proper speed and feed ratios for machines, as well as the size and position of cuts necessary.
- Adjusts cutting programs as needed during operation; saves revised versions of programs as needed for future use.
- Ensures work pieces are lubricated and cooled correctly throughout machine operation.
- Ensures machines run in a safe and efficient manner by adding attachments, aligning pieces, securing fixtures, or replacing broken or dull parts.
- Uses hoists, crane, or personal strength to lift work pieces to machines.
- Measures finished pieces with precision measuring tools and equipment to ensure they meet order specifications.
- Corrects production errors or machine malfunctions by conferring with supervisors and programmers; obtains approval to continue production after correction is made.
- Maintains, cleans, and repairs machines.
- Adheres to all safety rules and guidelines.
- Performs other related duties as assigned.

Required Skills/Abilities:

- Excellent verbal and written communication skills.
- Working understanding of computers.
- Thorough understanding of the robotic or computer-operated machinery to be used.
- Ability to operate highly technical machinery and basic hand tools.
- Ability to read blueprints and measuring devices.
- Strong math and problem-solving skills.
